OPW's state-wide staff energy awareness programme for public bodies

Optimising Power @ Work is a state-wide staff energy awareness programme supporting our participants' energy saving efforts in Central Government buildings since 2008 and the wider Public Sector since 2014.

The goals of Optimising Power @ Work are to identify and eliminate energy waste.

This is achieved through engagement with staff to encourage behavioural change and optimise building controls.

Targets

Ireland aims to become a net-zero economy by 2050, which requires a 50% energy efficiency improvement in the public sector by 2030, as per the Climate Action Plan. This sets the context for the Optimising Power @ Work programme to 2030.

50% energy efficiency improvement by 2030

A track record of success

8% Savings in Year 1

13% Savings in Year 2

18% Savings in Year 3

Optimising Power @ Work Energy Advisors work with each participating organisation to set SMART annual targets.

Buildings in the Central Government portfolio typically demonstrate average savings of 8%, 13% and 18% in the first three years of the programme respectively.

Savings in other sectors tend to be more modest due to varying occupancy patterns and operational models.

Campaign savings

The Central Government programme commenced in 2008 and has achieved average annual savings of 30% across the 300 participating buildings, making it the largest and most successful campaign of its kind in Ireland.

The wider Public Sector campaign commenced in 2014 and has achieved average annual savings of 10% across 57 participating sites.

What makes Optimising Power @ Work different?

The programme provides a range of tools, activities and support structures, designed to bring together the very best in research, technology, innovation and creativity.

These resources are used to create a specific energy saving plan for each building combining technology, specialist expertise and staff engagement.

Three key elements

Technology

Specialist Expertise

Staff Engagement

1

Technology

Dedicated energy monitoring systems are installed to record electricity and fuel consumption in near real time. This granularity of data brings focus to potential areas for improvement in participating buildings.

A professional woman with curly hair and glasses, wearing an orange blouse, is standing in front of a whiteboard and writing with a marker. She is looking up and speaking. On the whiteboard, there are various sticky notes and diagrams, including one that says "EQUALITY". In the foreground, the back of another person's head is visible, and a woman in a blue top is smiling. The background shows a modern office environment with large windows.

Specialist Expertise

An Optimising Power @ Work Energy Advisor is appointed to each building and meets regularly with the Energy Team. The Energy Advisor offers insights into where energy savings may be achieved and helps target these through staff engagement, optimising building controls and other zero or low cost measures.

Staff Engagement

Your Energy team will be supported to engage with staff, eliminate energy waste and promote behavioural change. Our energy portal will give you access to a range of downloadable resources. Active engagement in the initiative by the building's management team and staff is essential to the programme's success.

Participant endorsements

Tá sé mar aidhm ag Éirinn a bheith ina geilleagar neodrachta carbóin faoin mbliain 2050. Chuige sin, ní mór feabhas 50% a chur ar éifeachtúlacht fuinnimh san earnáil phoiblí faoi 2030, de réir an Phlean Gníomhaithe ar son na hAeráide. Leagann sé sin amach an comhthéacs don chlár, Cumhacht ag an Obair a Bharrfheabhsú, go dtí 2030.
